Testimonials / Success Stories / Reviews / Endorsements

No Claim Of Typical Result - (Your Results May Differ)

The results described on the Testimonials / Success Stories page, and elsewhere on this site, are the individual experiences and personal opinions of those who have purchased and used our products.

I do not claim these stories, opinions and results described represent the typical result that someone who purchases our products or services can generally expect to achieve.

Your results may differ greatly and no claims, promises or guarantees are being made or implied about the average, typical or expected results of the Pawsitivity supplements or wellness and health products.

Editing / Shortening For Grammar And Brevity Only

The testimonials displayed, which are received and displayed in text, audio and/or video form, (and in some cases transcribed and shown in written form) are shown verbatim, (except for some corrections of grammatical errors) and in their full length on the "Success Stories" page.

However, some of the testimonials appearing elsewhere on this site have been shortened for the sake of brevity, (nothing is added!) in which case the entire message delivered by the testimonial writer is not shown (although in most cases a link to the full version on the "Success Stories" page will be available underneath the testimonial.)

No Medical Claims Made Or Implied

In addition, these testimonials are not intended to make any claims that this website and/or the products sold here can be used to diagnose, treat, mitigate, cure or prevent any disease or medical condition.

The information on this site has not been clinically proven or evaluated. I also have no scientific evidence to prove or suggest that the user's experience is due to the use of my products or services.

Please also read the medical disclaimer on the Disclaimers Page: Medical \(and other\) Disclaimers
